“ I just want to say how sorry i am to know that the world and family has lost a great man. But heaven gains him to be with the love of his life. God has been good to him and allowed his presence to be on this earth for a purpose but now his purpose is in heaven. He loved his family very much and had a unique way of showing that. I enjoyed listening to his stories. and he always seemed content wherever he was as long as he had his coffee. He will be missed by all. Wished time spent with him would have been more.He will always hold a special place in all hearts. His granddaughter Melissa certainly will. We want say goodbye but simply see you later. God bless all.
