

David Brian McCord

April 26, 1957 - November 14, 2021

David "Brian" McCord, 64, of Lampasas, Texas passed away at his residence on November 14, 2021. He was born on April 26, 1947 in Uvalde, Texas to Walter Ray "Pat" McCord and Aquila "Kitty" Hendricks McCord. Raised in the Dallas area, Brian was a graduate from St. Mark's High School.

In 1979, Brian obtained a Bachelor of Arts from Rice University. He also obtained a Juris Doctor in 1982 from the University of Texas School of Law and a Master of Science in journalism from the University of Illinois in 1986. Brian spent the next 25 years in the Chicago area as manager/director of corporate communications for Telltabs and Allegiance telecommunications, as well as a freelance writer. In 2011, Brian moved back to Lampasas and was a substitute teacher for Lampasas High School.

He is survived by his daughter, Emily McCord of Oakland, California, and sons, Alex of Chicago and Mark of Minneapolis.

Arrangements are entrusted to Heritage Funeral Home of Lampasas, Texas.

Tribute Wall

JS

“ I just discovered this sad news. Brian and I were roommates at Rice University. Brian was a Rice legend from almost his first day on campus and probably still holds the record for most beer consumed in four years. After graduating, Brian went to the University of Texas Law School. Ever the iconoclast, he graduated but decided against becoming a lawyer and didn't take the bar. Shortly after, Brian came to Wyoming where I was working and hired on as a construction worker. When cold weather set in, he bought a Harley and set out for Texas via Las Vegas. He then went to the University of Illinois, earning a Master's and beginning a corporate career. I was proud when he agreed to be a groomsman in my wedding. Rest in peace, my friend.

*Jim Shaw
Rice University, Class of 1979*

Jim Shaw - May 07, 2022 at 08:24 PM