“ I have many fond memories of growing up with the Reed family. There was a field next to their home where many activities happened, softball, horseback riding and many other activities. Countless memories, but one in particular stands out - that one is when Elmer taught Ferol how to drive. It was scary and funny at the same time. We weren't sure how it was going to turn out, but she did get her driver's license. And to this day when I look back over my childhood that memory pops up frequently. Rest in peace Ferol. You will be missed. Fondly, Maudie
