“ He was the best he was always considered family!!! No matter what he has been helping Tina and grandma take care of me since I was in diapers. I will never forget the love and peace I felt very going over there from my diaper age until now at age 22 and I will always be grateful that they showed me what love for family means.... I remember so many memories dislocating by elbow wrestling Dylan, me and Cheyenne swimming, playing on the trampoline, growing fruits learning to do middle school math in the 2nd grade, the fudge bars we would sneak into the pool to eat so no one knew, walking around and playing basketball and riding bikes in the street, my first ever dog wags, and papa and tine took care of him even after I left, the black outs from thunderstorms, the owl that who's in the back yard, learning how to grow up and learning life ain't so bad when you have family that loves you.... I will forever miss you papa and grandma thank you for all the memories ❤️❤️
