“ I didn't have the privilege of knowing Karen, however she was a very dear friend to my sister, Jean McFeron, who valued their friendship. May peace and contentment come to all of you as you retain fond memories.

“ As a young girl just moving into her teen years I could not have asked for a better or truer friend than Karen. We were the same age and shared a wonderful, close bond when we both lived in Elm Grove. Any time we were able to do so we spent it together at my house or her house or wandering down by the Colorado River with friends. Secrets were shared with complete trust between us. It was a time that I've never forgotten and never will nor will I ever forget her. My condolences go out to her brothers, some of whom may not exactly remember me, and to her children and "grands" who have never met me. They also go to other friends because to know Karen was very special and she will be missed. May God help us all to move through this time of grief and bring us to a time of peace.

Happy Trails, Karen, your forever friend, Jean
