“ When I was in third grade I was in a reading competition where I had to read a certain amount of hours every night for a period of time in order to win certain prizes. My mom sat patiently with me every night as I read through the entire Harry Potter series. I eventually won two tickets to Six Flags over Texas in San Antonio, TX. We had a blast riding all the rides, despite my mom telling my over and over she didn't want to ruin her hair and makeup, she even stood in front of the ride that soaks you in water with me. Eventually we both met our match when we rode a ride that shoots you up so high you could see all of San Antonio. I was so scared after that she left the park with me and we spent the rest of the day shopping at target, where she got me one of my favorite CD's to this day, and eating some dinner.
