Peggy Gayle (DeHay) Gamblin was born in Brownwood, Texas, to Ward and Mildred DeHay on August 30, 1943, just months before her father was KIA in WWII. She was raised in Brownwood and attended school in Early, Texas where she graduated High School in 1961. She began her journey at Cherokee, Texas where she taught for two years before moving to Bangs where she taught in High School for a short while then becoming an icon as a 3rd Grade teacher for three decades. She impacted countless lives and claimed to "bleed green" as a Bangs Dragon.

Peggy is preceded in death by her husband, Billy Gamblin; son, Lonnie Gamblin; father, Ward DeHay; mother, Mildred Kelly; sister, Kimberly Malizia; Uncle Joe Garmon and Aunt Ima Gene Garmon.

Peggy was a lifetime member of the Zeta Omega chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, and a member of the Bangs Eastern Star. Peggy was also an active member of the Bangs women's club while it was meeting, and a long-time participant in the Bangs Bunco Babes. She was a member of the first Baptist Church. Peggy's favorite past times were watching sports and piecing quilts, making many for family and friends.

In lieu of flower a memorial contribution can be made to St. Judes in Mrs. Gamblin's name. The Gamblin family wishes to express a heartfelt thank you to Pecan Bayou Nursing and Rehabilitation and Dr. Amy Tindol for the extended care Peggy received.

“ Just cant believe my Big Sister is gone. Was trying to get a trip planned to visit when our baby Sister Kim passed away in Oct of last year. Goes to be a lesson to people dont put anything important just do it. We may not of had the luxurary of growin up in the same house. Always so many miles away but that never lessoned the love I had in my heart for my Big Sister Peggy. My own failing healthis the only thung keeping me from being there with you all at this sad time. Know my love and prayers are there with you in spirit hang in there. Love you all lots ❤️❤️❤️❤️
