Precious Mother

Our sweet, dear, precious mother
Oh, what can we say?
If you really knew her
You'd know she was always "On Her Way!"
She always kept us waiting
No matter the event,
Late for every single thing
While we would wait & sit.
But oh, when she arrived
What joy did she bring,
You could spend hours talking & laughing
And may even dance & sing.
She never met a stranger
and would talk to anyone,
If you didn't know her at first you'd be family once she was done.
She was a most amazing cook
Her food always delicious to eat,
And she welcomed any and everyone
At her table to have a seat.
Her work years were all spent
Serving others tirelessly,
Whether as an LVN or in the restaurant industry.
Her hobbies were pretty simple,
She loved to play the slots

And was always up for any trip
That involved a casino as a stop.
But her love for friends and family
Remained her main priority,
And though she now resides in Heaven
She will forever live on through you and me!

“ Birdie and I spent the night in Abilene at Sharon’s house so we could get up early the next morning so we could leave on our Vegas trip. During the night I think around two in the morning a severe thunderstorm showed up, well the phone rang and it was James wondering if we were okay so he and Sharion started calling back and forth keeping a very close eye on the storm needless to say Ole Hinds was fast asleep. Around 5 am we hit the road for Vegas and let me tell you that woman crawled under the steering wheel and drove to El Paso Tx before we stopped, as we set down to eat I said Sharion Gale I’m driving now. Once in Vegas the three of us had one hell of a time and spending time with my cousin is probably one of the best times that Birdie and I ever had. R.I.P. Sweet Cousin until we meet again.
