“ Always loved TK. Was glad to have her and all you girls and Jimmy in our family. She was always friends with Elve when they were young and I know they got into some meanis together, probably quite a bit. Lol I saw her out at DH just before she got sick and when she hollered to me I didn't recognize her at first because I hadn't seen her in a long time. We talked for awhile and she told me where she was living. She seemed so happy. I know everyone will miss her greatly. My prayers and love are with yall. Love yall, Birdie

She thought a lot of you Birdie. Elve too. If we big sisters could have been flies on the wall. 😊

“ I can say this about aunt Tk, she was the sweetest and most wonderful person. Anytime I needed to talk she was always there to listen. She was so funny and could always make me laugh. One time on Colorado city she came down to spend a few days with us and she and I had the best time together. She stenciled my eyebrows and then we went to get out nails done. I told her I was paying for it and she said na, I don't care to have them done because of the upkeep. I told her it is ok if she takes them off when she gets home I don't care. I just wanted us to go do that together. So we did. I'm so gonna miss her. Love you aunt TK

“ Sharing a memory: I was at Tks house at the Brady the lake, and we really wanted to get out on the water, do a little fishing, a little sunning, (something we both loved doing).

I can't recall why we couldn't use their boat, but if you knew Tk, and her imagination, it stretched far and wide. haha especially when it was something she wanted.

So she has this idea, for us to take the Hot Tub cover off the hot tub, and we attached a rope to it, took it to the water and tied it to the dock. We gathered all the accessories needed for fishing, sunning and we made a picnic basket and took a tiny ice chest with our Dr. Pepper's, ohh and coffee thermos. We took to paddles and crawled onto the hot tub cover and off we went. It worked! We were out there for hours.

We laughed, when people were looking at us and trying to figure out what in the world we were on, the looks on their faces were priceless! We fished. We sunned. We talked and we sang songs. We also enjoyed those moments of silence.

On our way back, we paddled up to the Simpson Lake side, where you put your boat in and pulled the hot tub cover on the ground and took our picnic basket and drinks with us and sat down at the table and enjoyed our sandwiches and just being together. We watched the birds and deer. It was fantastic.

The weather started to change so we got back on that hot tub cover and started paddling back to the house. The wind started blowing so hard and was blowing us back in the opposite direction we were trying to go. The clouds came rolling in atop of us and it was getting dark, the water was getting rough and we were starting to get worn out from fighting the waves and frankly, we were starting to get worried. In just a little bit a boat comes slowly creeping up on us and asked if we needed help? Yes!!! Lol

For whatever reason, they decided to just hook the rope to the boat and took off. That hot tub cover took a nose dive and so did we lol Long story, short....

They finally got us to Tks Dock and they said, they had never seen such crazy sisters but they really thought we were cool as they come, to put it nicely. 😊

Years later Tk bought a house at Simpson Lake and she said she loved it so much because her view was looking straight at the water and the picnic table we sat at and had our picnic. She recalled that happy crazy memory almost daily as she sat in front of her big picture window and looked upon the water.

I have so many memories and I just want you to know, I'm so happy you chose to spend time with me and I'm happy I chose to spend time with you, all those years, of time together, has given me, memory after memory, to carry me through, until we meet again. Your here with me in my heart and in my mind.

I love you so very much and bunches and bunches

P.S.

I took a nose dive in your driveway. It's not as fun on land as it was in the water 😊

I love that memory. I tried to go out and get you two on that big blow up thing with the slide. You may or may not remember. But the wind kept blowing me back. I was relieved to see the boaters bringing you two in. We do have so many fun memories. Beautiful post and sisters.
