“ To me, she was Sudie's best friend. She and my Grandmother, Martha, grew up in the State Orphan's Home in Corsicana, Texas. Perhaps rightly, she never thought much of us as none of us were good enough for Martha. We just weren't. As far as I know, she didn't really have any family, but I remember her and her husband Roger. Roger once told me that my Grandmother had been Valedictorian of her high school class, a fact she had never once mentioned to anyone. They would visit and share their stories about the orphan's home. Roger was kind. You are not forgotten, Verna Mae.
