I've known Billy for 30+ yrs. He was a really good friend to my son, Scott. Many times back in their Jr High & high school days, they all gathered at my house and we're in and out, eating the cookies I made for them, or whatever I was cooking. I have a great photo of the "gang" on my son's 18th birthday, that I took in my front yard. I was just looking at it and it really crushed my heart looking at Billy and realizing that he's no longer with us. It's knowing though, that he is walking with Jesus right now that makes me feel comforted. Billy was a good good guy. You'll be forever missed Billy.
